

Investor Spotlight: Chris N. '21

Chris is in his third year at TNCS, having arrived as a sixth grader. He was one of the first students to make an investment in Building on Strengths. When asked why he chose to invest he said, "I thought that if I gave they might finish the building faster. I am excited about the whole building, but in particular the new LF rooms. My LF teacher has helped me a lot, and LF teachers deserve great classrooms."

Construction Update

It's all down to the little details! Outside, the construction fence is down, the site has been graded and seeded, and balcony railings and gutters are going up. Inside, the flooring has been laid, lighting and finish painting is taking place, and our technology is being installed. If all goes well, Hourigan Construction will be turning over the building in the next couple of weeks!

Sure looks an awful lot like an almost finished building!

The view into the Julia Ann Greenwood Commons.

Painters add finishing touches in the lobby.

The longest hallway in TNCS History!

The road between Baker House, Arts & Humanities, and the new building takes shape.

Funding Update

Just as we near completion of our new building, we are also close to reaching our funding goal needed to complete the project. We are now 97% of the way there! We have come so far and need the help of a few more friends to take us the rest of the way. This building is almost ready to help empower our bright students; please consider a gift today to help us cross the finish line.

Click here to learn more.

What's in a name?

We will be announcing the name of the new building very soon! Watch your mail and this space for the big announcement.

Become a Building on Strengths Investor

Robly