September 27, 2020

Dear Family Member,

We are sorry to have to write you on a Sunday but we wanted to make you aware that, in the test results we have just received, we did have a positive test on one of our staff members who works at the Jewish Home at Rockleigh. The individual is asymptomatic and has had a number of previous tests, all of which were negative. As is our protocol, this person was retested today and, if the result is negative, will be tested again once that result is received.

Every elder with whom this person has had contact has been notified as has their family and each of these elders will be retested. Again, we do not believe that there is any cause for concern but we are committed to maintaining transparency as we all work our way through this pandemic.

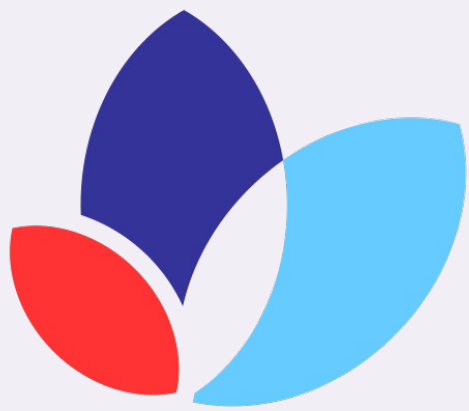

As always, we continue our vigilance on PPE, infection control, hand washing and cleaning of our buildings. Please take care of yourself and be mindful of the importance of facemasks, social distancing and, of course, hand washing.

For those of you who will be observing Yom Kippur, we wish you an easy and meaningful fast. May the year ahead be filled with health for all.

Be well,
